TOTAL ESTIMATED EXPENSES for 2022	2950.00

We have $6,000 in the account since we have not been meeting in person, a shortfall for this year is not a problem to cover with this projection.

50 Members @ 60.00 each will be 3000.00 and if we have any affiliates join under the step program.

4 Affiliates @ 150.00 would be 600.00 in income . That would give us a total of 3600.00 , but some of our members joined in this last year so we may or may not get those dues right away to the chapter. We could also get more than 4 affiliates to join and that would come up as well. Just ideas.

UORRA HOUSE BILL 111

The proposed changes to the UORRA HOUSE BILL 111, although well intended to create a safe haven for tenants and improve housing stock, will in fact chill and shrink the availability of work force housing. The owners affected by these changes are the seniors that have saved to own their homes and properties as well as young, new investors who are looking to create a bright future ahead of them. An example: An elderly couple in Taos, who evicted a family for non-payment and was forced to reinstate the family into their rental property. This couple relied on the tenant's rent as a primary source of income. Now they are forced to scrape by, without the income, while paying the taxes and bills at their expense. Yes, the renter was injured, but now more so are the owners.

The affects of these changes will be felt throughout the industry:

1. Doubling the time it takes to evict a tenant from 20 days to 56, consequently will double the loss in rent to the owner. Additional losses will affect the values of the property, by lowering values. For every dollar in loss, the value is diminished by $12, causing banks to require larger capital investments to purchase property to secure their investments, further restricting ownership.
2. The extension of time to remove a tenant who is violating their neighbors' space or damaging the property, from 7 to 14 days to a total of 28 days prior to being able to secure a court appearance, could triple the cost of repairs to the property. Again, affecting the value of the property.
3. An owner being forced to accept vouchers. No one denies people on Social Security, or on pensions, the ability to rent. However, to not be allowed to discern, between taking a person on a voucher with mental or emotional disabilities and placing them next to the Social Security recipient maybe placing the elders and other community members in jeopardy creating this into an issue of resident safety as well. Furthermore, even with this subsidy which allows full rent to be covered, a voucher participant is paying a portion of the rent. If the tenant damages the property and there is not enough deposit to cover it, the landlord has to absorb that difference. This bill will make it near impossible for there to be any recovery therefore creating further challenges to help those in need to obtain housing.
4. The assumption that an owner, by their actions is guilty of violating a tenant's rights. This is due to ANY actions they take, that the tenant feels are in retribution on the part of the owner, places the owner in fear of proactively managing their property, for the perception of violating Fair Housing Law.
5. Limiting the ability of the owner at the end of a leasing period to retrieve their property, for any reason is a stripping of ownership rights. Federally funded property requires the removal of a tenant to be with cause. The context being that the property was subsidized by federal funding. Market properties are not subsidized, and placing the owner in a position without recourse, is a taking of their rights.

All these actions taken together will truly limit workforce housing. The burden of supporting tenants in need of housing is being placed squarely on the owner's shoulders. Subsidies are being offered to help tenants, but it is a trickle that reaches the owner. Owners who must pay property taxes, as there are no breaks here. Owners who must pay water bills or are subject to liens being placed on the properties. Owners who must pay other utility bills, as tenants are not paying them, and by law cannot turn off services. In the end, that grandmother who is now living in assisted living, depending on that income to pay her rent, is left holding the bag. The large corporations are not renting to folks with vouchers, felons, or the homeless. Their prices and criteria cannot be met by this group. It is the small investor, whether it be an elder who has worked at this over the past several decades or the young and bright entrepreneur embarking on their first investment venture, who bears the burden.

This bill creates a ripple effect that goes beyond landlords/owners. Without rental income coming in landlords cannot continue to purchase needed supplies for maintenance, facility improvements and to pay staff. The suppliers are then harmed since they are no longer receiving monies to sustain their business. Property staff may lose their job or laid off thus effecting their livelihood. This bill provides no incentive for a renter to have any level of responsibility to sustain their housing.

Southwest Housing Coalition is a non-profit engaged in supporting the rental in assistance to the homeless and is currently absorbing all late fees and has seen its delinquency rate double during the pandemic. SHC operates with the slimmest of margins. They are working to be proactive in helping residents to obtain rental assistance, this should be more of the focus of the legislature as opposed to placing the burden on property owners.

Monthly meeting minutes

President Jack Corder called the Virtual meeting to order at 12:01 pm.

There were 30 members verified in attendance online. Also attending for a few minutes was Ashley Strauss-Martin from the State Association of Realtors.

Jack let everyone know that this meeting would be an update to HB 65 and where it was in the legislative process.

Ashley Strauss – Martin gave an update from the state Association side and what her expectations and the lobbyists expected to happen. The State association is working with the lobbyists to get the bill tabled and not even get out of the State Senate. It passed the house on a party line vote. Mark Fiedler is in constant contact with the State Association for updates as we are in the last few weeks of this session.

Kyle Deacon brought up about contacting owners of Properties that our member's manage. Jack pointed out that it is in their best interests to do that. Mark said he had a draft of a letter that could be sent to the owners for them to copy and paste and then sign for themselves. Mark pointed out that he was told by his contact in the State Senate that if you do an email blast to everyone on a committee the Senator will just put it in the trash. If you are going to contact them, it is more effective to send each one a separate email.

Jack said that this is crunch time and we all need to be involved so we can get this bill changed or stopped.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:15 pm

Meeting minutes for March 16, 2021

Meeting was held on Go to Meeting

Meeting called to order by President Jack Corder at 12:03 pm

Jack took attendance of those present and there was 13 members present and no guests .

Jack had Mark Fiedler announce the good NEWS that HB 65 had died in the Senate Judiciary committee and never got a formal hearing.

The industry dodged a bullet as Mark put it on this one and he proposed that a committee be put together to address some changes for the 2022 session that will be starting next January.

Some discussion was had about what might be some good changes to look at . Mark made notes and said he wanted to talk with several others and get some ideas formed.

Jack thanked Mark for all of his hard work on the video that was sent out as well as his work on letting everyone know what the proposed changes looked like .

Since we are starting to come out of COVID the idea was bounced around about an in person meeting but the majority said that for the time being they were in favor of staying with the virtual meeting.

Jack announced that the Board had voted to waive the LOCAL dues for the 2021 year.

Jack then talked about the education classes that are being put together by the chapter for CE credit. The chapter is putting together classes that are needed by local PM's to keep informed and keep their licenses. He is going to let everyone know when they are going to be scheduled.

Jack then opened the floor for the general session to talk about BEST PRACTICES . He opened it up by asking about what everyone was seeing with evictions and how the managers and owners were dealing with past due rents and tenant problems. Almost everyone in the meeting had a story and guidance for the others. What Judges were saying and what the expectations are if and when they got a court date.

As the clock hit 1 pm Jack Wrapped up the meeting and said there would be no meeting in April but the next meeting would be a virtual meeting on the 18th of May.

There was no other business and the meeting adjourned at 1:03 pm

Meeting minutes for the May 18th 2021 VIRTUAL chapter meeting

Jack called the meeting to order at 12:03 pm and read the disclaimer to the chapter.

11 members were present for the meeting.

Jack extended his THANKS to the members for their patience about meeting like this but things are just not opening up as fast as what we would like and several members expressed the feeling that meeting like this was fine until things got a little more relaxed.

Jack had Melissa Benevenga update everyone on the status of the recertification with the New Mexico Real Estate Commission. Melissa said that all of the paperwork was turned in and that she had talked with the Commission staff and they did not see any problems getting everything back in order for ALL of the Classes taught by NARPM would be accredited for CE credits and that our chapter would be able to sponsor our own classes with local instructors. A couple of members had questions about certain classes and making sure we were approved before any classes were committed to. Jack and Melissa both assured those present nothing would be done until we got the OK from the commission.

Jack pointed out that he was looking for some help with setting up a couple of committees to run the education program and to look into the possibility of doing a oneday program to bring in several classes and a speaker to address Property Management issues. He asked for those interested to send him an email after the meeting.

Jack asked Mark Fiedler to give an update on any legislation he has heard about or if the people he has talked to had specific recommendations about what may need to be proposed for the upcoming session. The ensuing discussion covered several areas of need to protect owners from those not paying rent and to keep the process of moving those folks out as simple as possible. Mark said he was glad for the input and would bring it up the next time they got together.

Jack then said that the topic for the day was the EMERGENCY RENT HELP being funded by the state and federal government. Many of the members said it was the most frustrating thing that had happened to them in a long time. Tenants were applying and the manger did not know about it, a couple had gotten checks with no tenants names on them and spent a day or more trying to find out who is paid on behalf of. All of those present agreed it was a good intention but the implementation was poor.

A couple of members said that they had their tenants come to the office to fill out the paperwork to help them get the ball rolling and that had worked out for them. The staff with the state was helpful but they were learning the system as well.

Jack Brought the discussion to and end and asked if there was anything else to discuss. Nothing was said but the announcement that there would be no meetings until August 17th when RVP Misty Berger was coming in to be the guest speaker. Meeting Adjourned at 1:10 pm by Jack Corder.

Jack Corder called the virtual meeting to order at 12:01.

Jack Welcomed everyone and extended his thank to RVP Misty Berger for joining the meeting.

There were 12 members and 1 guest in attendance.

Jack read the NARPM disclaimer and went over the report for the education committee. We are approved by the state but we have not been able to set up classes so far. At this time we are looking to begin sponsoring classes after the first of the year. Jack Again asked for some folks to help as Joe Viallva has moved to Colorado Springs and we need to fill his position.

.Jack then turned the meeting over to Misty Berger. Misty went over several items going on at the National level. Misty then talked about what Colorado and the chapters there do to reach out to new members. She went over the symposiums held in Denver and Colorado Springs. A couple of members had questions about how they were set up and was it a money maker or a way to bring in new members? Misty said it can function as both depending upon how it is marketed.

Misty answered questions for about 10 minutes .

After the Q & A session Jack asked if there was any more business. There was a questions about where we are with the proposed legislation. Jack said that was a great question and he would check with Mark and let everyone know what was going on. Jack announce that there would be no meetings in Sept or Oct and encouraged everyone to attend the National convention. Jack did let everyone know that Ashley Strauss Martin would be our guest speaker in November and she would talk about changes in the state forms as well as the landlord tenant relations law.

Meeting minutes

Jack Called the meeting to order and Thanked everyone for joining in . He mentioned that it was his hope this would be our last virtual meeting, and that he wanted to give most of the time to Ashley Strauss Martin because she has a lot of information to get out.

There were 19 members in attendance plus Ashley Strauss Martin the guest speaker.

Jack Introduced Ashley and let her take control of the presentation for her power point slides.

Ashley thanked the group for attending. She let them know that the number one complaint that the New Mexico Real Estate commission gets is about property management and that they are looking at making some changes down the road. There may be a certificate required to manage property even if you are not licensed, is one change they are looking at.

Ashley then went into her presentation about the forms changes and how that impacts property managers. She went into the language changes as well and why they were made.

She had a little time to cove some of the law changes that property managers need to be aware of and then opened up for questions. Several members asked about what her thoughts are regarding the upcoming legislative session. She said she expected another bill to be introduced about changes to the landlord tenant law, but the Governor would have to agree to put it on the call as this session is supposed to be only about the budget and money. She encouraged the members to stay in touch with their people in Santa Fe before and during the session and make our voices heard.

She again thanked the group and let everyone know if they had other questions they could contact her .

Jack let the group know that the next meeting would be after the first of the year and he would send out an email letting everyone know when and where .

He wished everyone Happy Holidays and adjourned the meeting at 1:20 pm
